Les petites boutures

MILLÉSIME

The small cuttings... You can imagine the hands putting the soil back around the young plant. They gently pack the soil and go off to fetch the watering can. The young plant takes root, finds its bearings and gets used to this new life outside the pot. If it feels right, it will be full of promises. In this cuvée, the winemaker has captured the work of a single year. One of the many promises that make up the life of a vine.

*So much happens in twelve months!
This is the story of four seasons in our fabulous garden.*

Between the branches of our fig and apple trees, the floribunda tagetes, with its repellent properties, brings its bright colours to the vegetable garden and to our plates.
